HKAC President Dan Cheung's Message to Alumni & Friends

As we approach the end of the year, I would like to wish all the friends and alumni of Hong Kong Adventist College (HKAC) a blessed holiday season and a prosperous new year. I am sincerely grateful for all God's blessings and your support throughout 2022.

This year has been another successful year for the college. We are thankful that our persistent efforts over the past five years to secure the Enrolled Nursing program accreditation finally paid off when in September our applications to establish the nursing program were approved by the Nursing Council of Hong Kong and Hong Kong Council of Accreditation for Academic & Vocational Qualification. This newly established nursing program brings the college an additional 52 students, five full-time faculty, and two support staff, and it elevates our college to the status of being a desirable educational institution in Hong Kong.

In addition, the 2022 Spirit of Prophecy Online Symposium (SOPOS) was a pleasant surprise for the college. Due to COVID-19, the college has had to suspend the Theological Symposium for the last two years. However, this year the Religion Department of HKAC decided to host the SOPOS with the support of the Ellen G. White Estate, the Chinese Union Mission (CHUM), and the Chinese Adventist Seminary (CAS). They chose to host an online symposium because of the severity of COVID-19 in Hong Kong and in China. Ten world-renowned Adventist scholars presented for the symposium, with each speaker recording a 90-minute video on their topic.

Chinese subtitles were added into the video for those attendees who did not understand English.

Chinese Adventist members around the world were invited to attend this online symposium. Due to the limitation of the Zoom account, only 300 attendees were able to link directly to the symposium via Zoom, but over 1,200 connections linked to the symposium through the down streaming of the symposium lectures, through the HKAC website. Since many of the connections were watched by families and churches, we estimated that more than 1,500 persons attended this online symposium. Many attendees made the requested that the videos be uploaded to the Chinese Union Mission (CHUM) website so that they and many others could continue watching the videos whenever they wanted. From the Zoom connections alone, Chinese Adventists from more than 13 countries around the world attended this symposium.

A final blessing of 2022 is that never before has HKAC received so much support from the friends and alumni of the college as it did this year. Never have so many individuals read our school's newsletter and kept up with the progress and activities of the college. We received a record number of donations, large and small, from our friends and alumni.

Please accept my heartfelt gratitude for all your generous donations.

I earnestly believe that 2023 will be another great year for HKAC!

HKAC President, Dr. Dan Cheung

We have two substantial projects that need to materialize next year that will bring bright future for the college. We hope that the student enrolment will increase by another 60 nursing students, and we believe that, with your unceasing support, Hong Kong Adventist College will rise to a level that will make you proud and bring glory to our God.

In Christ,

Dan Cheung, PhD
President
Hong Kong Adventist College

Christian Education Endowment Ltd.'s Fundraising Plan for a New HKAC Nursing School Building Project on the Clear Water Bay Campus / Page 1 of 5

Christian Education Endowment Limited (CEEL) was established in early 2019 with the objective to promote the long-term growth and to improve the quality of education of Hong Kong Adventist College (HKAC).

Having realized the Board of Directors of the college with the vision in mind to re-establish a long-due nursing program, the Board of CEEL has also endorsed a plan to support this vision in full gear.

The HKAC nursing program is vital to provide a sustainable nursing workforce for the two affiliated Hong Kong Adventist Hospitals. It is also to serve the public and to meet the need of an aging society locally in Hong Kong. With that in mind, building a new nursing school is a critical milestone for the college. It was then endorsed in the five-year strategic plan of HKAC.

HKAC's nursing program was not created from scratch. The college has had a long history of offering pre-nursing courses. For various reasons the program ceased 30 years and reinitiating, it took years of hard work and collaboration with various CEEL's board is pleased that the EN (General) Nursing Program received approval and accreditation by the Nursing Council of Hong Kong in July 2022, followed by accreditation by Hong Kong Council for Accreditation of Academic & Vocational Qualifications (HKCAAVQ) in September 2022.

It is also noted that the existing facility on campus will not satisfy the need for additional faculty and students. Hence, a concept of a four-story nursing and allied health building is born. The building is targeted to be built on the Clear Water Bay campus, next to the existing volleyball court, with an estimated timeline of 2024-2025. The total gross area would be around 21,000 square feet, including a big auditorium on the ground floor, various sizes of classrooms, science laboratories, skill or simulation laboratories, conference room, staff office, and so forth.

This should be well enough to accommodate 500 students. The five-year plan of HKAC's Nursing Department ultimately to convert the enrolled nursing program to Registered Nursing and to include a Bachelor of Science in Nursing & Master of Nursing program in the coming 3 to 5 years.

The construction cost is estimated in the neighborhood of HK$93million. Fundraising has begun by contacting the school investors and Alumni members individually. Various charities in Hong Kong with the same belief in promoting Christian education will also be approached.

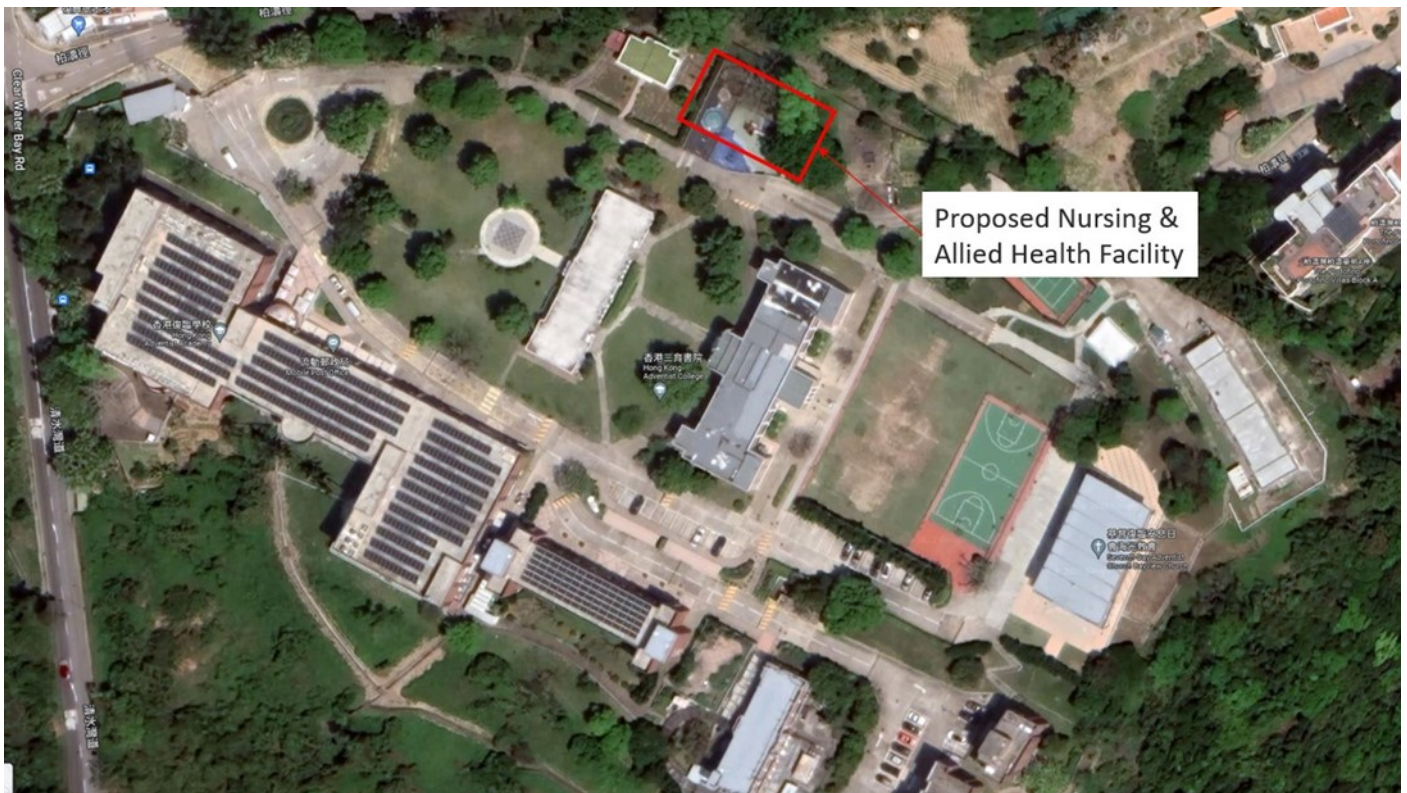

I urge your support for this important project of the school and CEEL. Your support is not limited to financial donations. We need volunteers and expertise in many areas so the mission can be accelerated.

Lastly, please consider CEEL itself. It is an NGO registered in Hong Kong and was founded by a small group of people, who believe in promoting Christian education and developing the sustainable growth of HKAC at a faster pace with no bureaucracy. Most of the founding members of CEEL came from HKAC alumni.

You can find out more about CEEL via their website or Instagram at <https://www.ceel.hk/>

Browse our CEEL website or follow our Instagram to get the most updated information about CEEL activities!

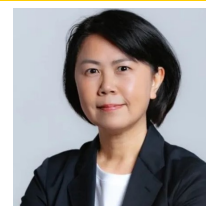

We wish you a happy, successful 2023!

Every little and big moments of the mission trip 2023 to Philippines Sipalay takes up major space in my heart. From day one of leaving Hong Kong to the five days of our heartfelt mission activities in Sipalay. As well as returning back to Hong Kong with so much love, humility, gratitude, undying faith, and cherished memories. We were and are surrounded by the love of our loved ones and the love of God.

One of the highlights of the trip is how it taught me to be grateful for I have everything that I need to live. This includes: access to clean water, a roof under my head to sleep, as well as sanitation services, such as proper toilets.

We conducted health checkups for local villagers and church members and encountered and experienced their way of life. I saw first hand that people are living even without these basic home facilities. And yet, they are one of the happiest people I have ever met. With the help of generous donations from some blessed people and through Dr Arlene, our group was able to help some families build their homes.

Even when people there had less than favorable living conditions, they all are so humble, joyful, and more full of life than people who have everything. We in modern life and the city have everything, but still we want more and even better. However, the real essence is in being content with whatever you already have.

I learned to cherish the people around you and love them because we are all a big family of Christ. For our stay on the trip, I stayed in the ladies dorm with seven of my amazing friends, including Zuriel, Audra, Dynne, Jasmine, and Veronica.

We share valuable memories to cherish for life. One of my favourite memories is when we were locked out of the dorm and could not shower or freshen up. So we used the well to get water, and I was sharing with Zuriel about how a mission trip would not be one, if we did not experience even this much. As tired we were from our activities throughout the day, we laughed and still made the most out of our time.

Every instance of the mission trip opened my eyes to confirming that God is with us, he hears our prayers and the holy spirit is working. It was evident everyday when we served, and had tasks to carry out, and whenever all of us mission trip members spent time to travel, eat, worship, and when we spent time with the children, church members, and local residents of Sipalay.

This is the type of trip one should not miss experiencing at least once in your life!

Chapel Assembly Talk (January 4th 2023)

History talk by Dr. Paul McGraw

Dr. Paul McGraw, HKAC Academic Dean & Faculty-History

Dr. Paul McGraw, HKAC Academic Dean, gave a Spring 2023 semester Chapel Assembly talk on January 4, 2023 about the importance of history. He spoke about C. S. Lewis, an Oxbridge (Universities of Oxford and Cambridge) professor, and Lewis' writing about the need for people to look at and understand the past, in order to live their best lives. The example of past plagues situations, such as the medieval Bubonic Plague and the so-called Spanish Flu of 1918-19 (now reportedly known as not originating in Spain) can be helpful for 21st century people looking at the SARS CoV-2 (Covid 19) pandemic.

Then, Dr. McGraw spoke about the origins of HKAC and the schools that Ms. Ida Thompson began in Hong Kong and in mainland China, her health, and her views on education. He also discussed the triangle design motif found in the current Clear Water Bay campus front gate; it mirrors the 20th century, historic front gate's original design. This triangle symbolizes the three Sam Yuk ideals of education for the mind, the body, and the spirit.

He went on to discuss the meanderings of HKAC's heritage schools, which moved back and forth between mainland China and Hong Kong, as historic conflicts between the main two national, political parties took place. Interestingly, Dr. McGraw indicated that back then, Sam Yuk students also simultaneously were learning to create products, such as furniture and embroidery. Dr. McGraw mentioned a Sam Yuk food factory making items including peanut butter and other vegetarian food. The Japanese occupation of Hong Kong period was mentioned, including hardships for females who had to hide to safeguard their own safety. During the Japanese occupation, 1941-1945 (three years and eight months), Dr. McGraw mentioned that there were internment camps for non-locals (such as the HKAC president of that period). War time was a harsh period on campus; food was chicken feed and rice gruel! Therefore, no matter that we all faced the Covid-19 pandemic, please think twice before skipping class! Students went through so much on campus in earlier times, for the gift of education to seek direction for their future lives!

Dr. Corjena Cheung, Chairwoman, Dept. of Nursing & Allied Health, introduced Ms. Natalie Chung Sum Yue during the January 18th Chapel Assembly. Natalie is a HK-based climate change activist and social entrepreneur who has devoted her life to climate action for the betterment of humankind and Earth. When she was 18 years old, she founded a low carbon, sustainable tourism firm to help mitigate climate change effects. According to her website, Natalie has been awarded the Tatler Gen.T List, Eco-Business Youth A-List and was recognized by The Japan Times newspaper as a female climate activist driving change in Asia. She represented Hong Kong at the UN COP25 Climate Change Conference, and subsequently established Hong Kong Youth for Climate Action to empower youths in international climate negotiations.

Ms. Natalie Chung Sum Yue at King Huy Hall

Per her website, Natalie holds an MPhil degree in Environmental Change and Management (with Distinction) at University of Oxford and a BSSc. in Geography and Resource Management (First Class Honours) at The Chinese University of Hong Kong. She was awarded a full scholarship for her postgraduate studies at U. of Oxford as the 2019 Esther Yewpick Lee Millennium Scholar.

Moreover, per her website, Ms. Chung is a member of two HK committees: Council for Sustainable Development and Green Tech Fund Assessment.

During Natalie's talk, she engaged with HKAC students at King Huy Hall. In middle school she interviewed Ms. Rebecca Lee who is the first woman who has been to all three Earth poles: North Pole, South Pole, and Mount Everest. Natalie found out about the suffering of polar bears, due to melting glaciers and what melting ice caps could mean for the planet. From that experience, Ms. Chung became interested in finding solutions. So far, her organization has visited 350+ HK schools and private firms about climate change, she introduced her firm's website via a QR code, and published a book a few years ago. Recently, she was invited to join an Antarctica expedition. At HKAC, she hosted an online quiz, which helped further educate HKAC students. She is now the Sustainability Lead at DFI Retail Group.

Welcome to Ms. Salina Fan

(HKAC Div. of Nursing & Allied Health)

Biography by Ms. Salina Fan

Ms. Salina Fan recently retired from the acute hospital of the Hong Kong Hospital Authority, and therefore, she now has time to start her long-awaited dream of holistic nursing education. Ms. Fan is a registered nurse trained in Hong Kong.

Ms. Fan’s studies included earning the Bachelor of Nursing and Master of Science in Stroke and Clinical Neuroscience at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. She is also a Fellow of the Hong Kong College of Nursing.

During her clinical nursing career, Ms. Fan worked as a stroke specialist nurse and head nurse, by assisting in the promotion of professional nursing development and participating in a Hong Kong-wide 24-hour acute stroke thrombolytic therapy team plan.

Ms. Salina Fan at HKAC

By joining Hong Kong Adventist College’s Nursing School, Ms. Fan hopes to pass on years of professional nursing knowledge and holistic nursing experience to a new generation of nurses and guide them to develop professional skills to become confident and caring nurses.

In her spare time, Ms. Fan continues to enjoy the field of stroke nursing and continues to participate in the development of specialist nursing and patient support groups to promote prevention and rehabilitation of strokes.

Salina also enjoys being in nature, such as traveling in mountains and rivers.

Welcome to Dr. Kima Fanai

(HKAC Dept. of General Studies & Religion)

Biography by Dr. Kima Fanai

Dr. Lalrokima (Kima) Fanai was born and raised in Mizoram, India. He has also lived in Meghalaya and Pune. He is married to Dini who works at HKAA. They have a six year old daughter named Thari.

Dr. Fanai completed a Bachelor of Theology from Spicer Memorial College, now known as Spicer Adventist University. He received a Master of Arts in Religion, with an emphasis in Biblical Studies (New Testament) and a minor in Old Testament from Andrews University. Later on, he earned a PhD in Religion, with a major in Intercultural Studies and World Mission and a minor in Church Leadership and Administration, from the Adventist International Institute of Advanced Studies (AIIAS).

Kima worked as an evangelist and pastor at the Mizo Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Mizoram, India, prior to his doctoral studies at AIIAS. While pursuing a PhD, he taught master’s degree students and assisted some professors in moderating online courses.

Dr. Fanai worked as a member of the Research Ethics Board (ERB) at AIIAS, which required him to examine each research paper submitted to ERB. In addition, he served as a layout designer for the Journal of Asia Adventist Seminary from 2021 until today.

At HKAC, Dr. Fanai is teaching both “Introduction to the New Testament” and “Introduction to Philosophy”.

He hopes to help students meet their academic demands, as well as their emotional and spiritual needs. He also wishes to ensure that students become responsible citizens and role models for society.

Dr. Fanai is interested in research methodology and ethics. He is available to help students with their documentary and social sciences research. Moreover, he is open to assisting students in any HyperRESEARCH projects.

Kima’s extracurricular activities include hiking and playing football and tennis.

Jacky Yeung grew up in Hong Kong. He graduated from Chinese Adventist Seminary with a bachelor's degree. After working for Hong Kong Macau Conference (HKMC) organization, he continued his studies at Hong Kong Lutheran Seminary with a Master's degree. Since 2019, Jacky has been studying at Andrews University (Berrien Springs, Michigan, USA) in the doctorate degree program.

Prior to joining HKAC, Jacky worked at HKMC as a pastor in the local church.

While at Andrews University, he's been a graduate assistant, assistant researcher, and an instructional facilitator.

Apart from his work at HKAC, Jacky has also been working for Chinese Adventist Seminary (CAS) as a course author and a facilitator. Simultaneously, Jacky has been an online course & instructional design at CAS.

For the Spring 2023 academic semester at Hong Kong Adventist College, Jacky is teaching RELT 325 "Theology I" & RELT 340 "Religion & Ethics in the Modern World".

Jacky would like to provide the best educational experience to HKAC students. In his teaching duties, the most important thing that concerns him is whether the student learns the subject matter and enjoys classes.

Because of the breadth of his academic discipline, Jacky has a wide range of research interests. As a faculty member in HKAC's Department of Religion, his research interest includes but not limited to theological, biblical, exegetical, and spiritual research. As a religious educator, his research extends to sociological, educational, and psychological aspects.

While Jacky's main academic interest is doing research, during his spare time, he enjoys playing video games such as LoL, and Valorant!

Ms. Florence Yip grew up in Hong Kong to be raised up under God's grace and with her parents' unflinching support and love.

She received both the Bachelor of Nursing and the Master of Nursing degrees from the University of Hong Kong. Then, Ms. Yip obtained Graduate Diploma in Midwifery from Midwife Council of Hong Kong and worked in Hong Kong's Hospital Authority as a midwife, before she began teaching in tertiary schools. Before joining HKAC Ms. Yip taught in nursing programs at UGC funded and non-UGC funded universities. Apart from teaching in the past few years, she also guided students in an International Student Exchange program, which allowed young adults to experience a brand new culture and meet new people to help them grow their world perspective as a human being.

Ms. Yip taught a "Health Assessment" course during the Autumn / Fall 2022 academic semester and will be teaching "Fundamental of Nursing and Elderly Care" during the Spring 2023 academic semester. At HKAC, Florence hopes to motivate students in participating class activities and demonstration. She also trust that genuine communication and bonding often plays an important role in assisting student's personal growth.

Ms. Florence Yip at HKAC

Outside of work, Florence enjoys listening to music and hiking. She greatly appreciates the nature around us in Hong Kong. Plus, she has been enjoying teaching on HKAC's historic Clear Water Bay campus!

In HKAC's new Higher Diploma in Enrolled Nursing (General) program, Dr Chang is responsible for the "Fundamental Concepts of Nursing" program. She is passionate in preparing nurses to success in any healthcare environment.

Dr. Chang believes that it is an honour to deliver nursing care to a person and that it is a blessing to be a nurse educator to teach our future nurses of tomorrow. She is excited to apply this principle to her teaching role to promote students' personal and professional development.

Besides work, Dr. Chang enjoys spending time with her family and reading. She likes to read journals featuring different aspects of nursing to enrich her knowledge. In this way, Dr. Chang hopes to teach the latest nursing techniques to her students.

Dr. Richard Ching Ho Cheng's Research Paper in December 2022 SISAL Journal Paper by Mr. Richard Cheng
(HKAC Dept. of General Education / Faculty-English) Text by Ms. Jenifer Shiu

Mr. Richard Ching Ho Cheng, M.Ed.

HKAC Assistant Professor, Mr. Richard Cheng Ching Ho, who teaches full-time English courses in HKAC's Department of General Education, published a research paper about shadow education in Hong Kong in SiSAL Journal (December 2022).

Below is the full abstract summary:

"Shadow education has remained a supportive role in many countries, and studies have shown that it has had both positive and negative impacts on students' academic performance. However, the views so far for private tutors have often been neglected by researchers. Private tutors are one of the important stakeholders in shadow education since they are the knowledge providers and facilitators in the classroom. Their opinions can help to show a more realistic picture of shadow education in Hong Kong. In this study, the focus is on investigating Hong Kong shadow education from private tutors' perspectives."

"There were 20 private tutors from local private tutorial centres participating in this study, and they were invited to individual interviews to express their ideas about shadow education in Hong Kong. Thematic analysis was used to organize and analyze the data in this study. The results showed that private tutors felt shadow education in Hong Kong is too 'materialistic,' and sometimes they felt lost when teaching because of the result-oriented atmosphere in the Hong Kong education system. Furthermore, social inequalities and washback were reported as well. This has further highlighted some of the negative impacts brought by shadow education."

Conclusions quoted from this paper:

"This study investigated Hong Kong shadow education from a tutor's perspective, and the results showed that tutors expressed their concern about the quality of shadow education in Hong Kong. As other research studies have shown, shadow education focuses more on exam preparation rather than other aspects of learning. (Wang & Bray, 2016; Yung, 2019)."

"There is a move towards adding new ideas in shadow education teaching rather than focusing on examination skills. Although only a small number of tutors reported the use of innovative methods, it is still essential in this field. A potential topic for shadow education researchers to investigate is whether an 'eclipse' (i.e., shadow education suppressing mainstream school) may happen in the future. An 'eclipse' refers to a light object covered by another object, and it's an astronomical phenomenon. However, in this paper, the results show that students seem to pay more attention to shadow education than mainstream schooling. As a result, there may be a chance that private tutoring can somehow become more important than mainstream schooling. As for the impression of shadow education in Hong Kong, most of the tutors expressed the opinion that it has provided a second chance for students to revise and review concepts they learnt at school. However, social inequalities also appeared. If students would like to learn more and interact with tutors in big-brand tutorial centres, they needed to pay more money. So, shadow education can cause social inequalities in society (Zwier et al., 2020), and those who have more money can find more resources for their children. In Hong Kong, parents are willing to spend a lot of money in helping their children to perform well in their public exams (Cheng, 2021). As a result, this kind of social inequality can easily be identified in Hong Kong."

"Future research may focus on several ideas in shadow education in Hong Kong. In this research, the main focus was on private tutors only, and it would be very interesting to compare different stakeholders' opinions on Hong Kong shadow education.

Furthermore, whether shadow education will overshadow mainstream school education, and whether the concept of an eclipse may happen in Hong Kong society. In other regions, such as India and Africa, researchers showed some signs that private tutoring has become as important as formal schooling (Gupta, 2022), and in Hong Kong, a washback effect showed that students believe private tutorial classes are more practical than mainstream school classes (Yung 2020). As a result, researchers can focus on whether shadow education will have the power to overshadow mainstream school education in the future."

Q1. What duties does your new full-time job at Sam Yuk Secondary School (SYSS-Tai Po) entail and are there fun extracurricular activities in which you are involved at SYSS-Tai Po?

As a missionary teacher, I teach English and at the same time I am responsible for giving Bible studies to students who signed up during Gospel Week. Additionally, we are responsible for the English corner and English enrichment. English corner occurs daily during lunch break. The HKAC alumni missionary teachers (Calebe De Almeida Carlos and I) are to engage the pupils in interactive and English-speaking activities for 25 minutes. As for English enrichment, we offer similar activities to English corner, but for a longer time period and for those who are scheduled to participate. Other enjoyable extracurricular activities we've participated in include training students for the Hong Kong Schools Speech Festival.

Q2. Which subject(s) do you teach at SYSS-Tai Po and how many students in their secondary school years are in your courses?

I am assigned to teach English to students in Form 1 and Form 2 (Grade 7 and 8) and to assist the NET teacher in Form 4 and 6 (Grade 10 and 12). There are four classes from Form 1 to Form 6, each with 25 to 35 students for my English speaking class.

Q3. Have you had a chance to visit your home country to visit family and friends, since your June 2023 graduation? What aspects do you enjoy about living in the Hong Kong Tai Po district?

Yes! By God's grace, I was able to go back to Malaysia for the Chinese New Year and celebrate with my loved ones there. What I like about living here is how far away it is from the hustle and bustle of the city. I have the opportunity to wake up to peaceful mornings. However, after the reopening of the border between mainland China and Hong Kong, the area has been busier than usual, especially in the mornings when everyone is heading for work or school.

Q4. Which people and/or things do you miss the most about being a college student on the Clear Water Bay campus?

Ms. Jade Rozanne Justin

Clear Water Bay campus will forever hold a special place in my heart. The warm and friendly community as well as church services are what I miss the most. I miss the breath taking scenery and the clean, refreshing air. I miss participating in enjoyable activities such as musicals, choir, and afternoon hikes.

Q5. Recently, has anything brought you back to the Clear Water Bay campus? Since graduation, have you had the chance to visit the campus to enjoy the Saturday Sabbath worship services at King Huy Hall / Bayview Church?

Yes! Even after moving away, I still attend Sabbath every month to attend services at King Huy Hall / Bayview Church whenever I could. Recently, the campus youth began a separate worship service called Connections. I've attended it twice and have absolutely loved both visits. I look forward to visit Bayview Church again.

Q6. To which career path will you aim, what higher education path (if any) to pursue, and to which life stage goals do you hope to achieve in the next five to ten years?

At first, I was quite enthusiastic about being a medical missionary, which is why I took the Wellness course at HKAC. But the time I've spent here as a missionary teacher has made me realize how much I like sharing what I've learned with others. Seeing a student develop into a better version of themselves is incredibly rewarding. However, I've always wanted to return to Sabah and work with the children there. And I know that if I gain a lot of experience here, I will be able to contribute more to society when I return home (to Malaysia).

Q7. Which are the academic, software, and communications skills that you believe would be the most helpful for aspiring HKAC college applicants to develop in their secondary school years, in order to be better prepared for college / university life?

I believe that every subject is essential, particularly those that relate to their future careers. Many of the concepts I learnt in high school reappear in college lectures, but at a more advanced level. Thus, I believe that a solid foundation in the fundamentals should be established during the high school years. Aside from that, since HKAC is a highly diverse community, it's important that we have a broad understanding of other people and cultures. Therefore, it will greatly benefit our interactions with other students if we take the time to learn and respect the diverse religious and cultural backgrounds they represent.

Q8. Knowing what you do now about the social, faith-based, and academic aspects of HKAC college life, what "pearls of wisdom" or general advice can you share with aspiring student applicants?

Make the most of each season of your life! I'm sure you will be able to find long-lasting friendships and life-changing experiences at HKAC. Since it is a small community, you will have more chances to learn and develop as an individual. Therefore, seize this wonderful opportunity!
